

National Career Sites

Corey is ready to begin his job search. He'll start with a national career website, which is a good choice for a general-purpose search. Two of the most well-known career websites are Monster.com and Careerbuilder.com.

Each one lets you search for job listings around the United States.

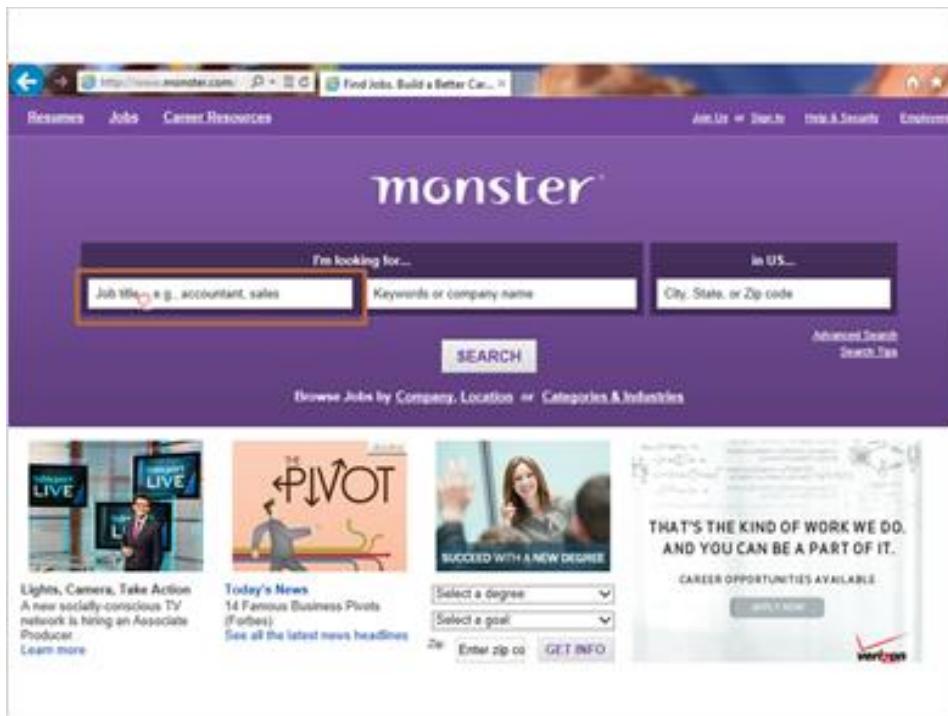

They also have an assortment of other tools, like resume builders, advice columns, and profiles of different types of jobs.

Corey starts by going to the Monster.com website, typing “monster.com” into the web browser address bar.

He could also search for it using Google or another search engine. On the Monster.com home page, there are several search boxes. Corey can type in a job title, keyword, or company name in the search boxes on the left.

He can also type the location where he wants to find a job in the search box on the right.

He'll type “Warehouse worker” into the job title search box.

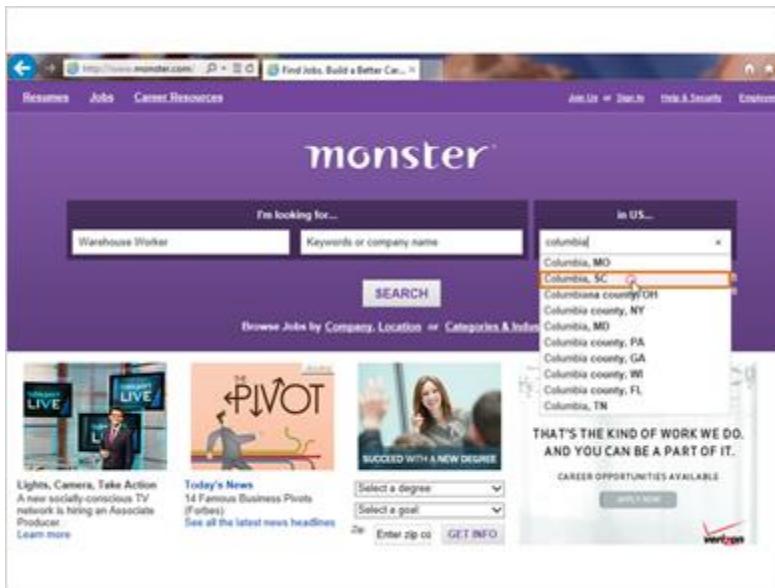

As he starts to type, suggestions come up that match what he's typing. He can just click the term he wants in the list.

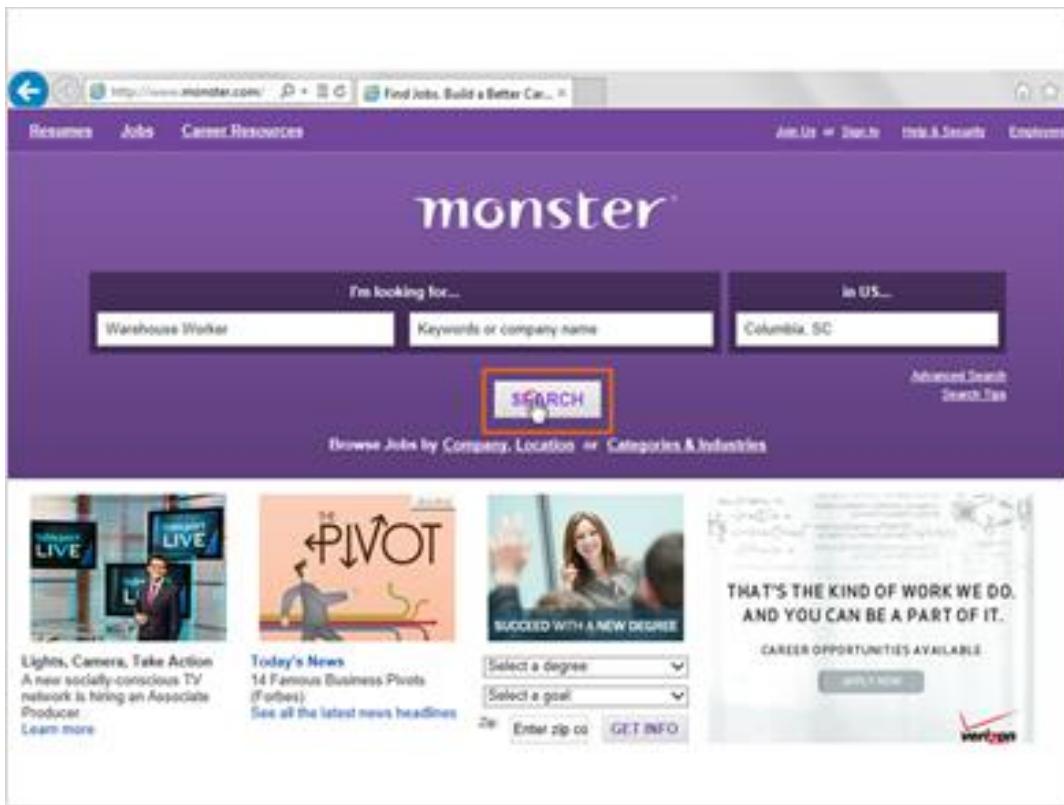

Next Corey types in the location where he wants to work.

As he starts to type in “Columbia, SC” it also comes up in the suggestions list, and he can click it to select it.

Once he's filled out the search boxes, he clicks on Search.

On the results page, we can see that 1 job matched Corey's search.

The search results list also includes featured jobs, that Corey didn't search for.

Employers can pay to have their jobs show up in search results, so it's important to look closely at your results.

In the list, look for the word "featured" that indicates these results.

Outbound Warehouse Worker - Sysco Columbia

About the Job

Overview: At Sysco we understand that building a great company is just like creating a great product - you must have all the right ingredients. For us, those ingredients are the cultures, backgrounds, ideas, and experiences behind our diverse workforce that embodies Sysco. Sysco is the global leader in selling, marketing and distributing food products to restaurants, healthcare and educational facilities, lodging establishments and other customers who prepare meals away from the home.

General Summary:

This is a warehouse position responsible for operating an electric pallet jack or fork lift, selecting the correct products from warehouse racking, labeling product using SDS label technology, palletizing product as it is selected to build customer orders, and delivering product to the dock in a safe and efficient manner.

This position requires working until all products are accurately selected and loaded. Overtime hours and working weekends and holidays are required in order to successfully fill customers' orders. Job requires working in areas with temperature and humidity variations based on local weather conditions and on selected environment (Dry, Cool, and Freezer).

An individual must be able to satisfactorily perform each essential duty listed herein. The requirements listed are representative of the knowledge, skill, and/or ability required. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

Sysco Columbia is located at 131 Sysco Dr., Columbia SC 29209

On the right side of the page, there is a sidebar with the following options:

Now Corey can read through the details of the job, to decide if he wants to apply.

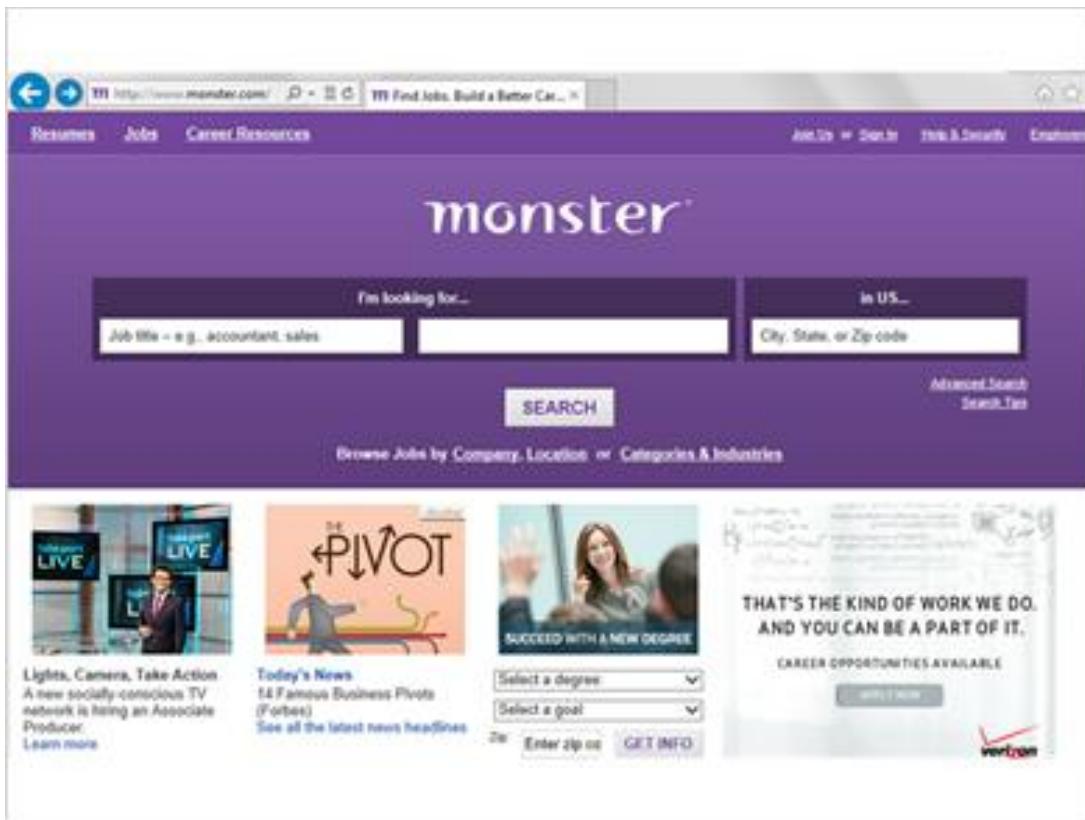

The job listing provides information about the company, the job duties, qualifications, and more.

To get to the application for this job, Corey can click on the Apply button on the top right of the screen.

He'll then go step by step through the process of applying.

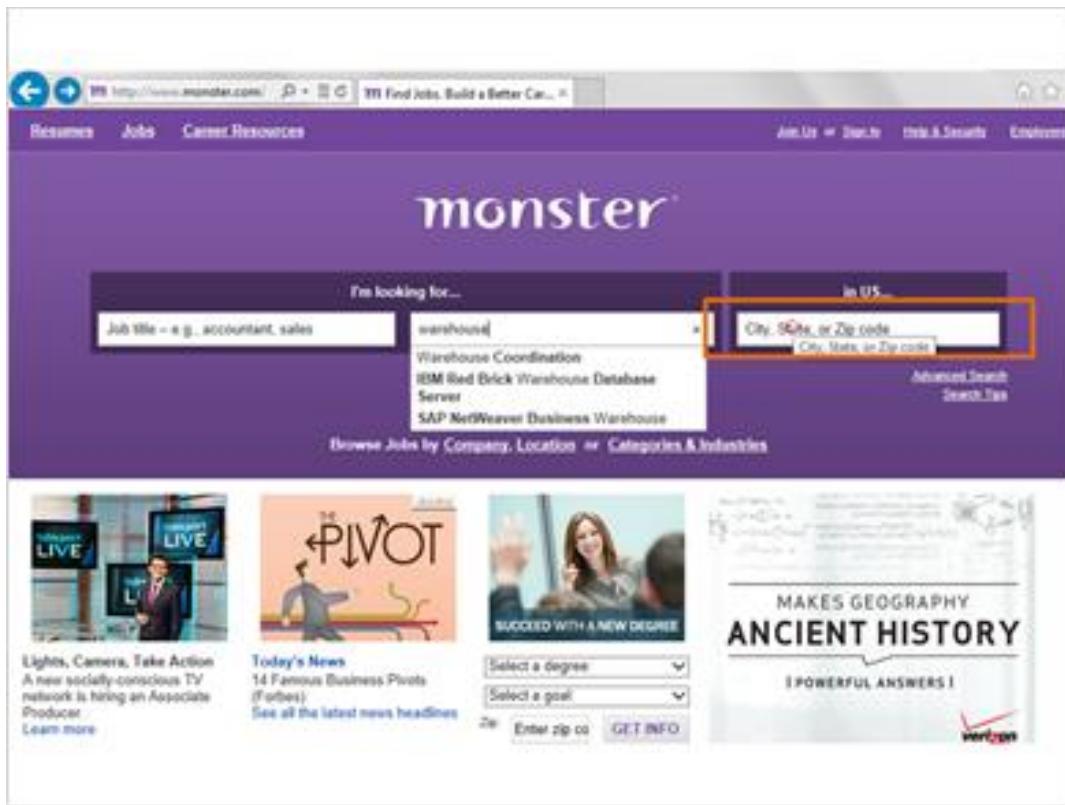

Since Corey only got 1 job result in his search, he wants to search again to find more jobs. Back on the monster home page, Corey will try the keyword search box instead of the job title box.

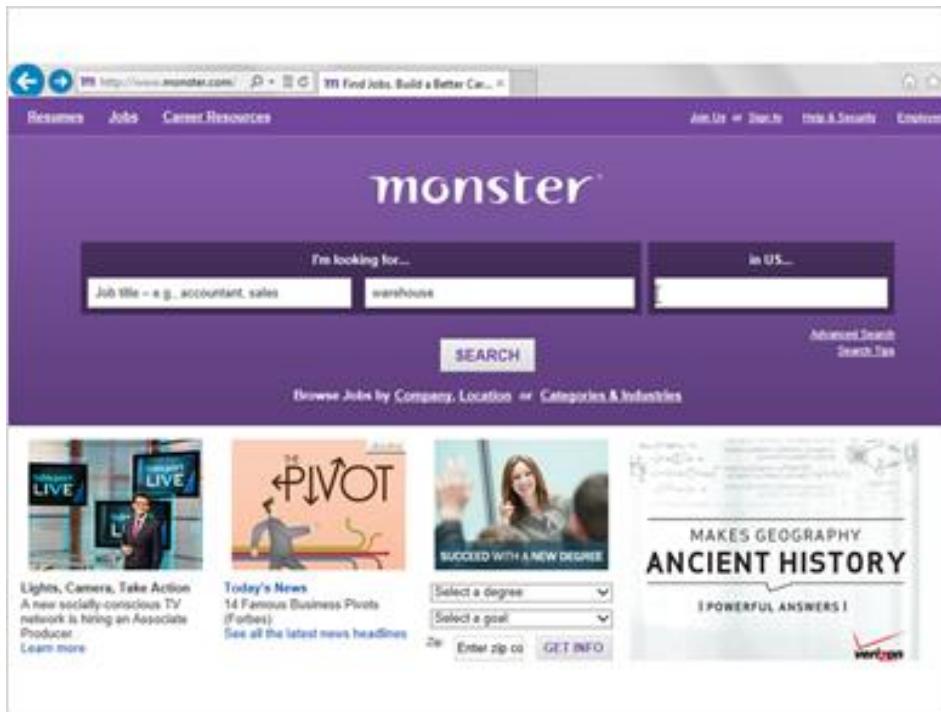

There may be jobs that have to do with warehouses, even if the term “warehouse” is not in the job title.

Corey will also use the term “warehouse” instead of “warehouse worker”, to search for all kinds of warehouse jobs.

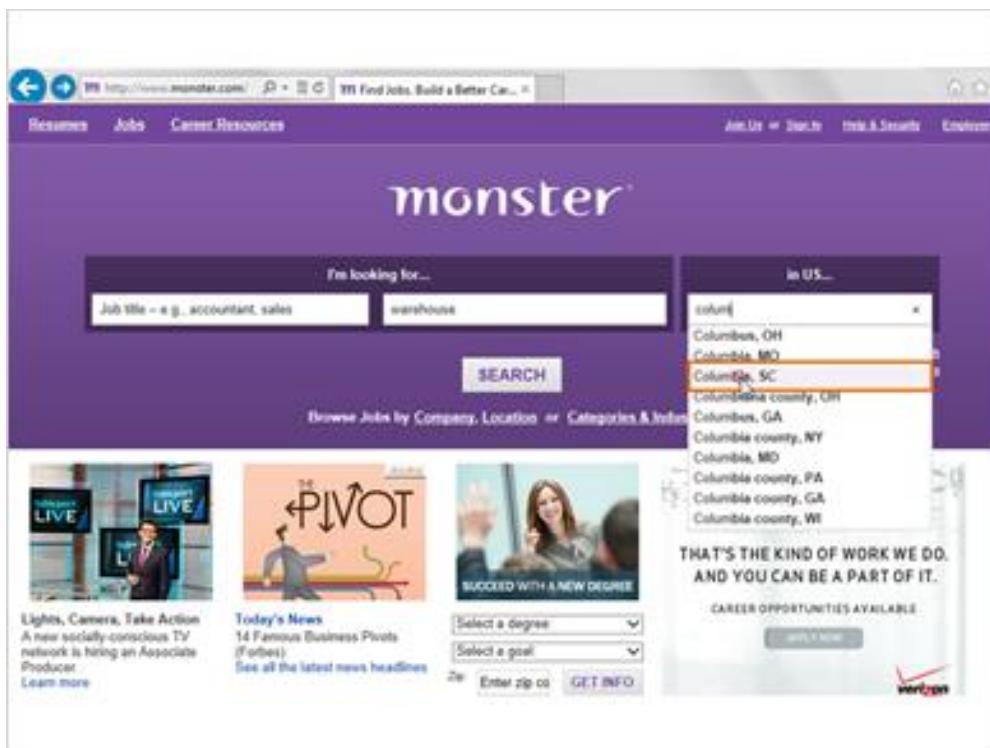

The screenshot shows the Monster.com homepage with a search bar. The 'Job title - e.g., accountant, sales' field contains 'warehouse'. The 'In US...' dropdown is open, showing 'City, State, or Zip code' as the selected option. A red box highlights the 'City, State, or Zip code' input field. Below the search bar, there are three news cards: 'Lights, Camera, Take Action', 'Today's News', and 'SUCCEED WITH A NEW DEGREE'. To the right, there is an advertisement for Verizon with the headline 'MAKES GEOGRAPHY ANCIENT HISTORY'.

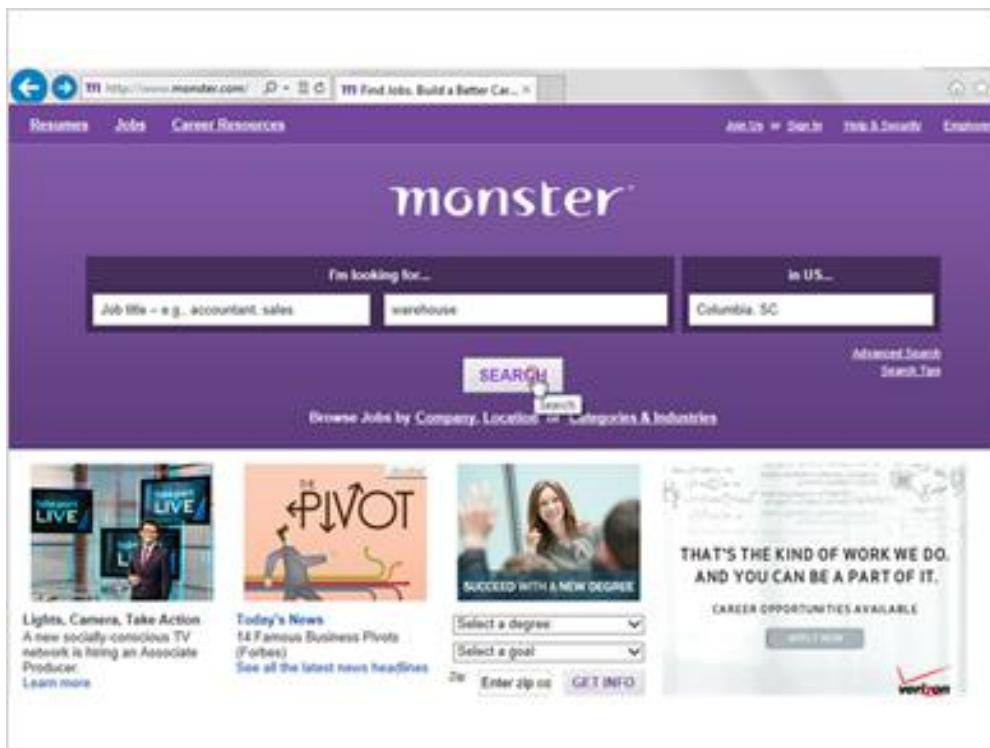

Corey will add the location information again.

The screenshot shows the Monster.com homepage. A search bar at the top has 'Job title - e.g., accountant, sales' and 'warehouse' entered. To the right of the search bar is a dropdown menu titled 'In US...' with 'Columbia, SC' selected. Other options in the dropdown include 'Columbus, OH', 'Columbia, MO', 'Columbus, GA', 'Columbia county, NY', 'Columbia, MD', 'Columbia county, PA', 'Columbia county, GA', and 'Columbia county, WI'. Below the search bar, there are links for 'Browse Jobs by Company, Location' and 'Categories & Industries'. The main content area features three images: 'Lights, Camera, Take Action' (a man on a TV set), 'Today's News' (a graphic for 'The PIVOT' with '14 Famous Business Pivots (Forbes)'), and 'SUCCEED WITH A NEW DEGREE' (a woman smiling). On the right, there is a 'CAREER OPPORTUNITIES AVAILABLE' section with a 'VIEW NOW' button and a Verizon logo.

The screenshot shows the search results page on the Monster.com website. The search parameters are the same as the previous screenshot: 'Job title - e.g., accountant, sales' and 'warehouse'. The dropdown menu for location is now set to 'Columbia, SC'. The search results page displays a list of job listings, with the first one partially visible: 'Associate Producer - Lights, Camera, Take Action'. The right side of the page contains the same 'CAREER OPPORTUNITIES AVAILABLE' section as the previous screenshot.

And then click the Search button.

If Corey wanted to limit his search based on specific criteria, he can also try the advanced search option.

The screenshot shows the 'Advanced Job Search' page on monster.com. The search form includes fields for 'Job Titles' (e.g., nurse), 'Skills/Keywords' (warehouse), 'Location' (Columbia, SC), 'Companies' (e.g., ABC Computers), and 'Job Type' (checkboxes for Full Time, Contract, Part Time, Internship, Temp, Other, all of which are unchecked). The 'Salary Range' section is highlighted with an orange box, showing options for 'Per Year' (radio button selected, dropdown set to 'All') and 'Per Hour' (checkbox selected, dropdown set to 'All'), with a checkbox for 'Only show jobs with salary info' (unchecked). The 'Industry' section is also highlighted with an orange box, showing two dropdown menus for 'Industry' (both 'Choose...' and 'Choose...') and 'Choose up to 2'. The 'Posting Date' and 'Career Level' sections are at the bottom of the form. To the right of the search form is a promotional banner for 'KOHL'S KALAMAZOO WEST STORE' celebrating its 'GRAND REOPENING OCTOBER 17!' with a 'CLICK TO EXPAND' button. Below the banner is an advertisement for 'Monster Mobile Apps'.

With advanced search, Corey can limit to a certain job type, like full time or part time.

He can specify a salary range, search for jobs within a particular industry, and more.
